

Cookbook Update-the good news is the cookbook sales are going very well. The even better good news is we ordered lots so there are still plenty more to purchase. Many people have said how great they look and we've been hearing good reports on recipes being delicious. They would make a great gift item for Thanksgiving, Christmas, hostess gift or?? We have found a few errors which you will want to correct. The following chart shows the corrections. If you have given some away, we have some copies of the corrections at church. We will have the cookbooks out each church event until Christmas.
